Topics

openSUSE.Asia Summit 2026 will invite talks/workshop relevant to openSUSE and other topics like Cloud, Virtualization, Container, Container Orchestration, Linux desktop environments and applications since openSUSE is a collection of various FLOSS products. The examples of the topics (not limited to) are as the following:

- openSUSE (including Leap, Tumbleweed, Open Build Services, OpenQA, YaST)
- Desktop environments and applications (e.g. GNOME, KDE, XFCE)
- Office suite, graphic art, multimedia (e.g. LibreOffice, Calligra, GIMP, Inkscape)
- Multilingualization support (e.g. input methods, translation)
- Cloud, Virtualization, Container, and Container Orchestration (e.g., Kubernetes, Rancher)
- Package supply-chain security, vulnerability management
- Embedded and IoT
- Linux kernel and file system
- Other software running on openSUSE

Please note that non-technical talks are also welcome. For example:

- An overview of FLOSS technologies
- Development, Quality Assurance, Translation
- Tips & Tricks, Experience stories (success or fail), Best practice
- Marketing and community management
- Education

How to submit your proposal

- You must follow the openSUSE Conference Code of Conduct (https://en.opensuse.org/openSUSE:Conference_code_of_conduct).
- Your proposal should be written in English, between 130 and 250 words, and have a clear, relevant title.
- Please check for spelling and grammar before submitting, using tools like LibreOffice, Google Docs, or Grammarly.
- See our guide (https://en.opensuse.org/openSUSE:Asia_Summit_How_to_Write_a_Good_Proposal) for tips on writing a great proposal.
- If you need help, contact committee members (https://en.opensuse.org/openSUSE:Asia_Organization_Committee#The_list_of_committees) in your country or region.

Guide to write your proposal

Please write your proposal so that it is related to one or more topics

For example, if your talk is on security or desktop, it is better that it contains how to install these applications and/or demo on openSUSE.

English

Please clarify what the participants will learn from your talk

- The introduction of main technology or software in your talk
- The main topic of your talk

Requirements for your presentation

- You may present in English or Bahasa Indonesia, but all documents and slides must be in English.
- Speakers must be present at the venue; prerecorded videos and remote presentations are not allowed.

Do not hesitate to contact the committee or a local community if you are not sure about writing your proposal or preparing your presentation

You can submit proposals for Workshops, Long Talks, and Short Talks. The submission period has begun Friday, May 1. 2026 and closes Wednesday, July 1. 2026. That means you have 9 days left! Remember openSUSE.Asia Summit 2026 will only be as good as the content you present. Submit early, submit often!
